

Jacqueline DeVoe
Flute Teacher & Chamber Music Coach
617.461.3994
JacquelineDeVoe@aol.com

Faculty: New England Conservatory Extension Division, since 1990
New School of Music, Cambridge, 1990-2002
M.I.T. Music Scholarship Students, 1996-98
North Shore Conservatory at Endicott College, 1992-95
Private Studio

Teachers who have most influenced me:

Wolfgang Schulz (Vienna Philharmonic)
John Heiss (NEC)
Claude Monteux (NEC)

Marcel Moyse, (Brattleboro, VT, 1979)
Bernard Goldberg (principal flute, Pittsburgh Symphony)
William Hebert (piccolo, Cleveland Orchestra)
Lloyd Gowen (piccolo, San Francisco Symphony)

Education: Hochschule für Musik, Vienna: Diploma in Flute, 1986
Flute studies with Wolfgang Schulz (Vienna Phil.)
New England Conservatory: B.M.(Honors) 1982, M.M. 1984
Flute studies with Claude Monteux and John Heiss

Some of my students' accomplishments:

Aaron Goldman, attended Eastman School of Music
(currently assistant principal flute, National Symphony)
Hyo Ji Lee, Walnut Hill School
(currently attending the Royal Academy of Music, London)
Hyunjin Kim, principal flute, Mass. All State Orchestra Orchestra 2005
(currently attending Harvard)
Andrea Lieberherr, Northeastern University and Cal Arts
(completing her DMA at Boston University)
Laura Thomas, National High School Honors Orchestra, 1997

In addition my students have regularly participated in local ensembles such as Boston Youth Symphony orchestras, Mass. Youth Wind Ensembles, District and All State ensembles.